

“Those unions that enjoy the right to strike have no guarantee that sacrificing their jobs and their livelihood will result in victory but they nevertheless engage in lengthy strikes, not because they are assured of winning but because they are determined to fight.”

—William Burrus, 1998

The image shows a large, rectangular, reddish-brown stone plaque, possibly a commemorative or historical marker, set into a concrete base. The plaque is divided into a grid of 40 smaller rectangular sections, each containing text. The text is in a serif font, likely a historical or commemorative inscription. The plaque is set into a concrete base, and there is some greenery visible in the background.

Standing With Wentzville Local 2250

A week into the GM strike about 20 members of UAW Local 74 stocked with donations of bottled water made the three and a half hour trip down to the GM Assembly Plant in Wentzville, Missouri to stand in solidarity and picket with our brothers and sisters from UAW Local 2250. The local president and members were very appreciative of our outreach and we were greeted with much kindness and respect. Depending on the duration of the strike we will be possibly be organizing another trip to Wentzville. Next time let's bring 50 UAW Local 74 members!

In Solidarity,
Chris Laursen
UAW Local 74 President
